DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS Two Hundred Voters Hold Two and Town Ticket.

The democratic caucus in town hall Wednesday evening brought out over 200 democrats and the various nominations were stubbornly contested. Practically every one required a ballot and a number several before a decision could be reached. The greatest interest was shown in the selection of a registrar of voters, assessors and school committeemen. James F. Twomey, chairman of the democratic town committee, called the caucus to order and Thomas J. Kelly was chosen chairman and P. J. F. Sulliyan clerk. These were appointed tellers: John de Vicq, Henry H. Hunter and Michael S. Grady.

The ticket as finally made up comprised these nominees: Assessors, for three years, George H. Backus, for two years, J. Godfred La Palme, for one year, Thomas Ashton; board of relief, Asa B. Holmes; William H. Buck; first selectman, George B. McCracken; town cierk, Frank P. Fenton; auditor, John H. Morrison; constables Thomas Killourie, James Kelley, William Shortell, William Lincoln; agent town deposit and school fund, William C. Backus; registrar of voters, James Haggerty; collector of taxes, Frank M. Lincoln; town school committee, James F. Twomey, Henry H. Hunter; tree warden, John J. Henry.

TWO FILTER BEDS

To Be Prepared at Once on the Whalen Farm

It is announced that it has been decided to make immediate use of the available filter beds on the Whalen farm recently purchased by the borough of Danielson, and that instead of placing the sewer terminal in the river or of making temporary provision for the sewer discharge on the surface of the filtering ground, filter beds are to be prepared for permanent use.

These beds, two in number, are to be made by plowing over the area to be included and then using a scraper to remove the dirt to the depth of a little more than a foot. The dirt taken out is to be used about the four sides of the beds to form a small embankment. This system of building filter beds is in use in Framingham and Natick, Mass, and has been found inexpensive and satisfactory. In the cities mentioned, the surface of the filter beds has been planted for several years with corn and the yield has been very heavy and has furnished a considerable income. This year the corn grown on the filter beds by the town of Framingham sold standing for more than $600.

Brothers Love Fail to Love Each Other-Joseph Sues John for Slander-Agreement in Richardson Suit-Railroad Cases on Trial-Big Peach

John Love of Webster, well known in this part of eastern Connecticut, was served with a writ attaching his body by Deputy Sheriff George F. Holbrook of this city at Danielson on Wednesday in a slander suit for $5,000 hrought by his brother, Joseph Love of Webster.

Mr. Love came to Putnam with Sheriff Holbrook and was released, after securing bonds of $5,000, furnished by Richard Gorman.

Joseph Love and John Love were former business partners under the firm name of Love Brothers, with marble and monumental works in Webster, Putnam and Danielson. Some time ago this partnership was dissolved and since that time the ill feeling existing between the two men has been publicly exhibited at various times.

The suit is the outcome of their differences. The writ is returnable to the superior court for Windham county on the first Tuesday in November.

Questions for Voters of Killingly owes $182,000. Will no-license help reduce that debt ?

Has the debt in Killingly been reduced until this year since it last voted a license in 1906 ? It has not. Can the villages of the town outside of Danielson escape the penalty of paying a higher tax rate if this town votes No? They cannot; the license revenue helps them as well as Danielson. If every man who is not a total abstainer voted license in Killingly how many votes would the no-license tople poll? Vote as you live; a hypocrite is detestable above all men.

Do you imagine that the leaders of the no-license movement will not resort to the tyrannical methods they used the last time the town voted "No" if you give them another chance? How did you like the spy system? How did you like the operations of the court of inquiry? Have you ever heard of a no-license town that became so moral that they dismissed the police force, abolished their criminal courts, closed their jail and almahouse and marked time waiting for their immortal crowns?

If the State of Maine is the model of the temperance people that we listen to why does it bear the most disreputable record of the New England States, so far as the governing of the sale of intoxicants is concerned? Why should you place any confidence in a man or men that asks you to deprive yourself of a personal liberty when you know his record does not warrant your support?

Ask the no-license people to show you their record of conversions achieved through the working of the prohibitory laws. Ask them for the names. Ask them what single achievement they can point to in this town because of their efforts in behalf of no-license that makes them deserving of your support at the polls.

Ask them if it is better to again make this a molly-coddle town ridiculed by strangers that come here from progressive cities, a town of skulking pocket-sellers, a town for Putnam to ship car loads of beer to. Ask them if they will pledge themselves that none of these things will occur; ask them to pledge to you that they are more honest in their business than the one they attack; ask them if they ever made this a better town!

If license hurts the average poor man, why did the deposits in the Windham County and Brooklyn Savings Banks increase nearly $100,000 during the past year? Ask them why.

If license hurts Killingly, why does the Connecticut Company run double service between Danielson and Central Village Saturday afternoons. Why is every north and south bound car crowded to the doors every week end?

Ask them if they think it would be a good plan to change all this and go back to the dreary, deserted streets of the last year under no-license, with the business men howling about bad business.

Ask them to answer all these things. Ask them if they will make good the business losses. Ask them why this town should go backward rather than go forward.
